

Welcome to the Construction Talent Retention Scheme

Supporting careers across all construction professions, trades and business functions

Construction is a thriving, vibrant and varied sector and it's recruiting right now

How to use the CTRS to find your perfect role:

- Completely free to use – just register, upload your CV and start your job hunt.
- Get your CV seen by hundreds of recruiters looking for people like you.
- All sorts of jobs available – office and site based, flexible roles, for all professions, trades and business functions.
- No construction industry experience yet? Don't worry – just show your transferable skills.
- Simple, free, easy to use platform with no limits on use.
- Search vacancies by job role, location or company name.
- Save your searches and get automated job alerts for new opportunities.
- Identify your dream job and contact employers directly. No recruitment agencies or fees involved.

The Construction Talent Retention Scheme (CTRS) is supported by the Construction Leadership Council, CITB and a wide range of employers, industry bodies, professional institutions and construction unions.

“I would advise anyone interested in a role in construction to register on the CTRS portal. There is no sponsorship or advertising on the site, so it's really easy to search for roles and register your interest.”

The platform is great, easy to use and creates an effective marketplace between employers and candidates, without the need of a middleman. Knowing that more than 800 employers can easily access my professional profile, and I have direct access to their opportunities and vacancies, is wonderful. It makes the whole process of finding a new opportunity much more exciting and enjoyable.
